PHILADELPHIA ORCHESTRA.

Programme a Particularly Strong One -Prospect of Large Audience.

As the time draws near for the appearance of the Philadelphia orchestra the interest seems to be on the increase in local musical circles, and the people are gradually awakening to the magnitude of the attraction which will appear in Slater Memorial hall Friday evening. Owing to the size of the orchestra—35 pieces—quite an addition had to be made to the stage so as to accommodate the players. While on concert tour the orchestra travels in its own special car, and they have sent As the time draws near for the apconcert tour the orthestra travels in its own special car, and they have sent word that they will arrive in Norwich via the Boston and Albany and Central Vermont lines at 3.30 Friday afternoon. Truckman Arthur D. Lathrop has been engaged to transfer the bagguge, which will require two large trucks. The piano which is to be used for this occasion is the largest size Steinway grand, and it has been forwarded from the Steinway warerooms in New York and is already placed in the hail.

The programme arranged for the programme arranged for the Norwich concert is a particularly strong one, and will include the E flat major concerto for piano and orchestra by Liszt, in which Frank L. Farrell of this city will be the sololist. One of the best known of the brass players in the orchestra is Anton Horner, who plays on what is probably the most mellow instrument in the orchestra tra—the beautiful French horn. It is of the French horn that Mozart once wrote to his sister when he was busy working on a composition: "Please remind me later on to do something bendsome for the French horns—they have such a golden tone." And of all the golden tones that came from the the golden tones that came from the French horns, nothing is more rich and luscious than, the tone produced by Anton Horner. Mr. Horner is not the only member of the family in the orchestra, since his trother, Joseph Horner, another famous horn player, is associated with it, while the other members of the horn group make a quartette which cannot be equalled anywhere for beauty of tone and expression. and expression.

and expression.

There is every indication that Slater hall will be filled to capacity next Friday evening, as aside from the local interest in the event there will be a number of concert parties from New London, Westerly, Williamantic, Jewett City and Plainfield. Reserved seats for the concert are now on sale at the store of Geo, A. Davis and as the seather capacity of the half is Ilmited, it ing capacity of the hall is limited, it is advisable to secure seats without

COLONIAL THEATER.

Motion Picture Dancing Lessons-Hesitation Waltz, Tango and Trot.

An extraordinary bill of motion pictures is billed for today at the Colonial, including the Dancing Lessons which teach the tango, turkey trot and hesitation waltz, as taught by Mr. McCutcheon and Miss Sawyer to New York's exclusive four hundred. These teachers appear at the New York Theater Roof Garden and receive $25 per private lesson. All this for a single private lesson. All this for a single admission at the Colonial today. The Sunken Treasure is the immense two reel Kleine feature also for today, ahowing remarkable views of the bottom of the ocean and thrilling episodes. A Night on the Road, Essanay A Friend in Need, Selig; A Servant of the Rich, Lubin, are also on the programme, so everyone is assured of seeing something to interest, instruct and entertain. The dancing lessons are the talk of all New York, and it was with much difficulty that Man-ager McNuity was able to secure them for his patrons at all. They remain for today only, and a complete change of programme takes place assin fomorrow.

DAVIS THEATER.

All New Photoplays Today. All New Photoplays Today.

In the midweek change of photoplays at this theater today the head-line feature is a two reel Domino drama called The Informer, a powerful story of old Erin and the Irish people in the days gone by. The other pictures are the famous Mutual Weekly No. 56, with a lot of new events, including motion pictures in Japan, showing picture theaters are now the principal amusement in Nipponese. Another subject of this weekly is Barnum & Balley's circus in winter, showing how this great outfit look in its winter quarters right here in Conshowing how this great outfit look in its winter quarters right here in Connecticut, where they make their winter home. This is only two of the many interesting subjects of this great Mutual Weekly. The other photoplay is a Keystone comedy called Won in a closet, and it is just as funny as the other Keystones that have caused so much laughter every week at this so much laughter every week at this theater. In the vandeville Alf Holt & Co. still continue to make a big laugh-ing hit, with Mr. Holt mimicking eving hit, with Mr. Holt mimicking everything imaginable. Russell and O'Nell are two clever singers and dancers who do a pleasing act, and Tyrol, the European ventriloquist, with the assistance of his wooden friend makes it merry for the audience every performance with his yodeling and whistling. Another first class vandeville show is booked for Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the feature being Vaddar and Mirgon, who present a tense dramatic sketch entitled A Cry at Midnight, Glasco and Walker are two live wire comedians who have a great line of comedy talk, and Orphea will present her instrumentalogue of artistic solos and difficult combinations on several instruments. combinations on several instruments.

"Little Women" Coming to the Davis.
Little Women, the story of Meg. Jo.
Beth and Amy, known to many thousands of readers in the United States, and which has been translated into German, French, Spanish and other foreign languages, has been dramatized into a play of four acts and two scenes, by Marian de Forest, a Buffalo newspaper woman, and is being produced this season by William A. Brady through an arrangement with Jessie Bonstelle, who secured the consent of the Louisa M. Alcott heirs. It is said that Miss Bonstelle labored diligently for more than eight years before she could secure permission to have Miss Alcott's immortal story put into a stage version, and only after promising the surviving members of the Alcott family that the dramatic work would follow the original manuscript accurately and reverently, did she succeed in gaining their consent. Miss de Foreste dramatization will be the attraction at the Davis thesaire, Briday, Feb. 18th, matince and night, and promises to be one of the dramatic events of the senson here. There are few homes that do not boast one of the case of more copies of Little Ewo-"Little Women" Coming to the Davis.

THE BLEST

The light of smiles shall fill age?n The lids that overflow with tears And weary hours of wee and pain Are promises of happier years.

Nor let the good man's trust depart.
Though life its common gifts dany.
Though with a pierced and broken heart,
And spurped of men, he goes to dia. For God has marked each serrowing And numbered every secret tear; And heaven's long age of bilsa shall

THE LONG DAY CLOSES. No star is o'er the lake
Its pale watch keeping;
The moon is half awake
Through gray mist oreeping.
The last red leaves fall round
The porch of roses;
The clock hath ceased to sound,
The long day closes.

Sit by the silent hearth
In caim endeavor
To count the sounds of mirth
Now dumb forever.
Heed not how hope believes
And fate disposes;
Shadow is round the eaves,
The long day closes.

The lighted windows dim
Are fading slowly;
The fire that was so trim
Now quivers lowly,
Go to the dreamless bed
Where grief reposes;
Thy book of toil is read,
The long day closes.
